Panel Discussion on Ireland’s Potato Famine and Hunger in Northwest Arkansas

NorthWest Arkansas Community College Continuing Themed Semester

Bentonville, Ark (March 26, 2012)—NorthWest Arkansas Community College continues the Irish themed semester with an audience participation event.

A panel discussion with audience participation on The Irish Potato Famine: A Conversation on Christine Kinealy’s A Death-Dealing Famine: The Great Hunger in Ireland and the problem of hunger in Northwest Arkansas will be held Thursday, April 5 from 12:00-1:15 p.m. in room 108 of the Student Center on the college campus in Bentonville.

The event will be moderated by NWACC Honors students and all are welcome.

NorthWest Arkansas Community College is a comprehensive, public two-year college that serves and strengthens the community through learning for living. NWACC’s service area is defined by the Arkansas Department of Higher Education as Benton and Washington counties in extreme northwest Arkansas. The commitment of NWACC to life-long learning can be seen in the quality of instruction it offers, and the variety of programs it has designed to move students into the job market in a minimum amount of time, enrich people's lives, and prepare them to further their education.
